- 8. Sixty-two OL officers attended a workshop on ethics in Government contracting, which featured a videotape on ethics in the Agency and an Office of General Counsel presentation on general behavior standards for all federal employees.
- 9. The Office of Information Technology achieved Initial Operating Capability for the Cray supercomputer three weeks ahead of schedule. The Office of Scientific and Weapons Research now can use the Cray interactively for development and production work.
- 10. The Office of Personnel (OP) reports that interest in the Federal Employees Retirement System (FERS) transfer option continues to be high. An extra counselor has been added to the FERS Counseling Center in the library and expanded hours are under consideration. OP has invited the 150 annuitants who retired after 22 December 1987 to attend a special presentation on the effect that transferring into FERS would have on their annuities.
